Higher Education

for African Challenges of the 21st Century

A Book in Celebration of Uganda Martyrs University Silver Jubilee - 1993-2018

Edited by JIMMY SPIRE SSENTONGO
ALOYSIUS BYARUHANGA

Uganda Martyrs University Book Series No. 13

UGANDA MARTYR'S UNIVERSITY LIBRARY

Contents

Contributors ix

Dedication xiii

Foreword xv

Preface and Acknowledgements xxiii

SECTION ONE
HIGHER EDUCATION FOCUS AND PEDAGOGY

CHAPTER 1: University Education Essential for Effective African Leadership: Archbishop Kiwanuka's Contribution to Catholic Higher Education in Uganda and Beyond 1
John Chrysostom Maviiri
Dream of a Catholic University 5
Establishment of a Catholic University 7
Uganda Martyrs University 9
Lessons to be Perpetuated from Archbishop Kiwanuka's Legacy 10
Conclusion 16

CHAPTER 2: Renegotiating Public Interest and Confidence in Higher Education: Challenges and Possible Innovations for the 21st Century 19
John Wycliffe Frank Muwanga-Zake
Introduction 19
What is Higher Education? 22

Does HE Contribute Towards Public Interests or Vice Versa? 23
Public Participation in Higher Education 25
The influence of Funding and HE-Public relationships 27
Partnerships in HE and the Socially Disadvantaged or Disabled Groups 32
The 'Cultural Presence' of HE in Disadvantaged Communities 32
The Civic Role of Higher Education Institutions and Their Constituencies 34
The Africanness of HE 37
Historical Perspectives 38
Internationalisation and Globalisation 39
The African Public and HE 41
Identifying Weaknesses and Threats in African Higher Education 43
ICT potential in HE 46
What should HE do to adopt ICT? 48
Conclusion - A Future Agenda 56

CHAPTER 3: Learners at the Centre: Humanising the Fundamental Purpose of Mass Education 69
Bendicto Kabiito and Josephine Namugumya
Introduction 69
Context and Point of Departure 70
Theoretical Perspectives and Reflections of the Purpose of Education 73
The Purpose of Education: Functionalist-Leaning Perspectives 74
The Purpose of Education and Domination Perspectives 78
Higher Education and Qualificationism/ Credentialism Syndrome 81
Learners at the Centre: Insights from the Japanese Education System 83
Conclusions and Recommendations 96

CHAPTER 4: Attempts toward Progressive Teaching and Learning at the Faculty of the Built Environment of Uganda Martyrs University 103
Alex Ndibwami
Introduction 103
Rationale 106
Context.....107
Findings and Discussion 108
ENDS 2361 – Field Experience 1 (Travel).....108
Conclusions and Recommendations 124

CHAPTER 5: The Part-time Learner-Adjunct Lecturer challenge on Teaching and Learning in Higher Education: A case of MBA Programme of Uganda Martyrs University.....129
George Wilson Ssonko
Introduction – Background and Contextualisation..129
The Concepts of Learning and Teaching.....132
Interaction amongst the Learner, Facilitator and Content – What do people learn?.....134
How do People Learn – A Theoretical Treatise 136
Obstacles / Challenges to Teaching and Learning...137
Approaches to Overcoming the Obstacles and Harnessing the Opportunities 140
Conclusions and Implications 142

CHAPTER 6: Social Media and Students' Creativity in the Use of the English Lexicon in Higher Institutions of Learning 147
Christine Nakyejwe
Introduction 147
Social Media 150
Conceptual Clarification.....151
Creativity.....151
Literature on Social Media and Students' Creative Use of the English Lexicon.....153
Theoretical Perspectives 153

Reinforcement Theory 155
Social Media in Academic Space 156
Reflections for Pedagogy 161
Conclusion 165
Recommendations to Academia 165

SECTION TWO
CURRICULAR INNOVATIONS

CHAPTER 7: Breaking the Terminal Nature of Primary Teacher Education in Uganda: Innovations at Uganda Martyrs University 173
Aloysius Byaruhanga and Charles Mushabe
Introduction 173
The Concept of Terminal Primary Teacher Education 175
The Concept of Continuous Professional Development and its Benefits 178
Benefits of Continuous Professional Development by Breaking Terminal Teacher Education 180
Benefits of Continuous Professional Development by Enhancing Teacher Learning Capabilities 181
Breaking Terminal Primary Teacher Education in Uganda: Innovations at Uganda Martyrs University 182
Continuous Professional Development in Primary
The Uganda Martyrs University Innovation to Break Terminal Primary Teacher Education 186
Conclusion 204

CHAPTER 8: Emotional Intelligence for Employability Skills Enhancement: The Underdeveloped Competence in University Graduates 203
Maurice Mukokoma
Introduction 203
Understanding Emotional Intelligence (EI) 204
Theoretical Roots and Model of Emotional Intelligence 205

UGANDA MARTYR'S UNIVERSITY • LIBRARY •

Competence-based conceptualisation of EI 209
Ability-based conceptualisation 210
The Emotional Intelligence Model 212
Emotional Intelligence and Employability Skills 212
Emotional Intelligence and Career Success 214
Application of Emotional Intelligence in Organisational Management 215
Improving Emotional Intelligence Skills 219
Conclusion and Recommendations 224

CHAPTER 9: Women Empowerment through Higher Education for Social Transformation in Uganda: Which Education? 233
Josef Buchana Kisoga and Flavia Amayo
Introduction 233
Literature Review 238
The Concept of Women Empowerment 238
Higher Education and Women Empowerment 240
Women's Role in Social Transformation 244
Theoretical Framework 248
Women Higher Education and Social Transformation 251
Pierre Bourdieu and Cultural Capital 252
Bernard Lonergan and the Intellectual Conversion Paradigm 254
Intellectual Conversion for Women's Empowerment and Social Transformation 255
Discussion and Conclusions 258
Recommendations 266

CHAPTER 10: Agro-ecology Systems Approach to Achieving Sustainable Livelihoods in Africa: Contributions of Uganda Martyrs University 279
Julius Tedson Mwine and Johnnie Wycliffe Frank Muwanga-Zake
Introduction 279
Agro-ecology 282
Systems Thinking and Sustainable Livelihoods 288
Approaches and Partners of Developing Sustainable

Livelihoods 292
What is a Systems Thinking Model? 296
Systems Thinking Applied to Agro-ecology for Improved Livelihoods 298
Strengths and Weaknesses of Systems Thinking 301

CHAPTER 11: Underscoring the Gender–Actor Puzzle in Training Needs Development for Ecological Organic Agriculture Value Chains 315
Marius Florian Murongo, Julius Tedson Mwine, Roset Nalugo, Irene Nabayinda
The Paradox of Agricultural Modernisation and Transformation in Uganda 316
Strides to Ecological Organic Agriculture Development in Uganda 317
Demand for Training and Gender 319
Research on Gender Training Needs Identification 321
Land Ownership and Gender 323
Actors in the Ecological Organic Agriculture Value Chains 325
Groups and Gender Participation 328
Gender and Role in EOA Performance 332
The Role of Higher Education: The Case of Uganda Martyrs University 333
Prospects of Ecological Organic Agriculture in Uganda 334
Conclusion 336
Recommendations for EOA improvement 336

SECTION THREE
MANAGEMENT AND ADMINISTRATION

CHAPTER 12: Strategic Dimensions for University Alumni Associations in Uganda 345
Vincent Bagire and David Busobozi
Introduction 345
Background and Context 346
Empirical Evidence from Ugandan Universities 351
Discussion 359

Benefits of Alumni Associations 360
The case of Charles Lwanga Alumni 361
What has Been the Challenge? 362
Implications 363
Management and Policy Implications 364
Implications to the Alumni 365
Theoretical Implications 365
The Lens into 25 years of UMU 366
The UMU Brand through Alumni 368
Prescription Model for Alumni Engagement 372
Conclusion 374

CHAPTER 13: Factors that Contribute to Students' choice of University in Uganda: Implications for sustainability of Universities in the 21st Century 379
Laura Ariko Otaala
Introduction 379
Study Context and Purpose 379
Methods 381
Literature Review 383
Research Findings and Discussion 386
Popularity 388
Religious Affiliation 389
Absence of Strikes 390
The Reputation of the Institution 390
Influence of Alumni 392
Location of the University 394
Availability of Desired Programme 395
Cost of Education 396
Influence of Teachers and Friends 397
Length of the Programme 398
A good Environment 399
Good Discipline 399
Implications and Conclusions 401

CHAPTER 14: Positive Deviation and the Rejuvenation of Higher Education in Africa..... 409
Mary Cecilia Draru and David Busobozi
Introduction 409
Theoretical Discussions.....411
Positive Deviance in Higher Education 414
Key Principles for positive deviance in Universities 425
Conclusions 426
Index 429